DEAR DR. ROBINSON:

I WOULD LIKE TO DRAW YOUR ATTENTION TO THE FOLLOWING TITLE:

WILLARD (SAMUEL) - BRIEF DIRECTIONS TO A YOUNG SCHOLAR DESIGNING THE MINISTRY FOR THE STUDY OF DIVINITY... BOSTON 1735.
FIRST EDITION, 12MO., STITCHED, UNCUT,
SLIP CASE. EVANS 2-3976. $24.00

THIS IS A REALLY FIRST RATE COPY OF A MOST APPEALING LITTLE BOOK. STITCHED AND UNCUT, IT BEARS A PRESENTATION INSCRIPTION FROM THOMAS CLAP, PRESIDENT OF YALE.

WE WILL SHORTLY ISSUE A CATALOGUE OF AMERICAN SERMONS AND I HOPE THAT IT MAY BE OF INTERST TO YOU. IN THE MEANTIME, MY VERY BEST WISHES FOR THIS NEW YEAR.

SINCERELY,

AD/RMD

8 January 1955

Mr. Alexander Davidson, jr.,
New York

Dear Mr. Davidson:

Thank you for your good wishes which I send on my behalf too. I was glad to see notice of the Willard sermon. Though attractive it does not particularly fit into my scheme.

Now I am combing Evans for everything by the parsons having to do with politics, government (including church government), election, fast, freeman's meetings, mercantile matters, trade, currency etc etc. A funeral sermon on a public man also often falls within my view.

Originals would be most acceptable, if they do not cost substantially more than the photo copies I can now get most expeditiously from the chief repositories.

If convenient I should greatly appreciate a check list giving only the Evans numbers which you have. I can quickly run down the comparison with my own want list. You need not even name the author or year. It may look like some cryptic message but will fully serve me and may save you a lot of bother.

Very sincerely,

STEWART M ROBINSON

Dear Dr. Robinson:

I have followed your suggestion and I submit a list of Evans numbers. All of the enclosed should fall within your interest.

You emphasize your interest in the Middle and Southern Colonies. Two factors work against you here. If you will examine Evans, you will find that the printed sermon output of those areas was exceedingly slim. I am weak statistics wise but I would venture that the ratio of New England production to the rest of British America would run at least 8 or 10 to 1. The other factor is one of price and rarity. When one ventures south of Philadelphia, one finds a constant and lively demand for any sort of imprint. As a result, a Maryland, Virginia, Carolina or Georgia imprint will fetch a substantial price. I suggest that you may have to rely on the photostat for such material.

I will be glad to send any of these along for your inspection. And if I can be of any other service, please do not hesitate to call upon me.

With good wishes, I am

Sincerely,

Alexander Davidson Jr.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

It is my distinct pleasure to endeavor to express to you the Society's sincere appreciation for your gift of twenty-five dollars. It was a most thoughtful and generous act on your part.

The writer of this letter has been at this desk for nearly twelve years and it is the first time that one of our correspondents has given us a present for carrying out what is more or less our function. Your check arrives at a time when costs are steadily mounting, but endowments, not to the same proportion. Your generosity is therefore doubly appreciated.

Very sincerely yours,

I do not know precisely what the Historical Society charges are for negative photostats but fear it may be more than $30.00. Shall I have the photostats made and have you billed directly by the Society or would you prefer that I obtain the exact charge?

Dear Mr. Robinson:

We have your letter of January 12th requesting negative photostats of a considerable number of 17th and early 18th century sermons listed in Evans Bibliography.

The Library does not have its own photostat services but arranges to have work done by an outside company. We are therefore returning to you here enclosed your check in the amount of $150. which you sent us on account. As soon as it is possible to obtain an estimate of the cost of the photostating you will hear further in the matter from our Keeper of Rare Books. We shall proceed to place the order with the photostat company. The bill from the company will be sent to you directly with the completed work.

The Rev. Stewart M. Robinson,

Elizabeth, N.J.

Dear Sir,

Many thanks for your two letters of December 28th and January 15th, also for your remittance of £50.00 which has been placed to the credit of your account.

- Photostats of the items by Thos.
Cradock, James Sterling and John Burt, to which you find reference in Evans, are being put in hand. As the books are in the Museum, there is no difficulty in obtaining photostats.

The works of John Strype (1643-1737, ecclesiastical historian and biographer) were printed in 19 volumes by the Clarendon Press, but probably a complete run of the 19 - even if we could find one - would include a great deal of matter of no particular interest to you. His life of
J. Whitgift (Life and Acts of J. Whitgift)
3 volumes, was reprinted in 1822 and his "Life & Acts of M. Parker", 3 vols. in 1821. Would you like us to search for these two titles ? He also wrote lives of Cranmer (1694), Grindal (1716) and Sir John Cheke (1705).

We are still unable to get at the Dartmouth papers but have not given up and hope eventually to find a means of softening the owner's heart. We will try Sir Kenneth Grubb.

Enclosed is a memo of the amount expended on a search for material in several likely places in London; nearly half the time was spent in the Public Record Office looking over such classes of material as seemed possible sources of letters to and from colonial clergy, but in vain. There is a great deal in Lambeth Palace which we think would interest you and we make a few suggestions on the attached sheet, though no item falls within the dates of 1774-1776 mentioned in your letter of Dec. 28th. Please let us know if you would like photostats of these suggested items.

We have just acquired a very interesting volume comprising five scarce items by Thomas Coke, together with an autograph letter of his. We are giving you the first refusal of this item, of which we enclose a full description.

Always yours faithfully
B.F. STEVENS & BROWN LTD.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

The reprints you ask for are not under my jurisdiction, so I am turning your letter of January 14 over to the photostatic department of the University.

You might be interested in the fact that the American Antiquarian Society has announced a project to reprint in microprint form the full text of every Evans item. Unfortunately it will not be possible to sell the prints of individual items until the entire project has been completed, in about ten years.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

Dear Stew. :

Does it interfere with what you are doing to have Col. F. P. Miller peruse your article, or, better, book? If it does, don't send him a copy. If it doesn't, and you have one to spare, send it him.

Office of the Secretary
Princeton University
Princeton, New Jersey

Dear Mr. Evert:

I have received from Mr. Savage a memorandum you were kind enough to prepare for him, and I am writing to you at once to tell you how immensely I appreciate the information which the memorandum contains. I regret to say that I will not have time to do any real research, or even much reading, in preparation for the chapter I have to write on "Presbyterian Higher Education and Human Liberty" and consequently, the facts which you have chronicled for me are literally a godsend.

As a matter of fact, I had no idea that Princeton had supplied as many cabinet members from the classes prior to 1800, nor did I realize that Princeton had supplied as many as twenty-eight members of the Continental Congress. I trust that my reference to Princeton, which will necessarily be brief, will do justice to the principal fount of liberty.

With renewed thanks, I am

Cordially yours,

Francis P. Miller

Dear Dr. Robinson:

In Mr. Shipton's absence I am writing this note to say that the Swan Printers have started on your photostat order of January 12 and expect to finish it within a few days. Of the thirty titles listed we were unable to find one, Evans 341, James Fitch's An Explanation of the Solemn Advice Recommended by the Council in Connecticut Colony, Boston, 1683. An annotation in our copy of Evans suggests that we have tried to locate this item before without success. However, there are four other locations given, including the Boston Public Library, which has photostating facilities.

Mr. Swan has your check for $100 and will credit you with this amount when making out the bill for the work.

Dear Mr. Robinson,

It seems a good time to report on the sermon reading. I have worked some Saturday afternoons and the last 2 weeks have been helped by one of the catalogers, a total of 20 hours for 2 of us.

So far we have discovered practically nothing which seems to be of any value to you. The William Conant sermons had nothing, the same of McClure's sermons and nothing in the one sermon by Benjamin Pomeroy, this being the eulogy he delivered at Elazar Wheelock's funeral. I read Asa Burton's sermons with interest, because a good deal of his preaching was done in my home town; Shetford Vermont. My uncle, no longer living, studied his work and I hoped that the family might have kept some of this work, but my aunt says, "Asa Burton did not begin to warm up until about 1812-1816"

Last week in reading Samson Occom's sermons, I found one bit which may be of some interest. All these sermons are undated, but since he died in 1792, any sermon is likely to be safely within the period. In this sermon he gives his plan for collecting money, called a "purse" for promoting education and to be collected by all the churches of the presbytery.

In general I have a strong feeling that we are finding so little as to be very little use to you, in other words we are wasting our time and your money. Probably you have some picture of the situation: bundles and bundles of sermons written with unreadable writing on old stained paper, faded ink, often merely notes. If there were any references to public questions it would be hard to find them among the steady flow of Bible quotations with references to book, chapter and verse. There is a great deal of repetition, and many pious ejaculations.

I have written this at home away from the notes we have taken. I will add anything of interest when I get back to my desk tomorrow.

3/3/55

Miss Kirkwood, my helper with this reading quotes Eleazar Wheelock in a sermon dated Lebanon (Conn.) 1742 :
"That Civil <sup>magistracy</sup> is a Divine institution" Prov. 8, 15, 16 - Rom. 13, 1, 2.
"That God leads and governs his people by men. Ye have a Ray of that Divine power."

I regret very much that we have found nothing that even appears hopeful.

Sincerely,
Ethel G. Martin.

Dr. Stewart M. Robinson

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Our file of the Connecticut Journal for the period Oct. 1773-Mar. 1774 is incomplete. However, we are placing an order for negative photostats for you of "Some Observations Upon the Slavery of Negroes" from issues in our files, as follows: Oct. 8, 15, Nov. 12, Dec. 31, 1773 (p. 1 of each issue and p. 4 of Nov. 12 issue). In 1774, an order is being placed for Jan. 28 (p. 1) and Feb. 11 (p. 2).

The article in the Jan. 28, 1774 issue (p. 1) appears to be part of the reply to the first series. That in the Feb. 11, 1774 issue (p. 2) by Philander is apparently of the third series. We are unable to determine which articles are by Baldwin.

Upon checking Clarence S. Brigham, History and Bibliography of American Newspapers, 1690-1820 (Worcester, Mass., American Antiquarian Society, 1947) we find that Yale University Library is the only library which appears to have a complete file covering the period; however, gaps in their holdings may not be listed. The Library of Congress has Oct. 29, Nov. 5, Nov. 26, Dec. 10, 17, 1773 which we do not have; they also have good coverage of the period Jan. 14-March 1774.

Cordially,

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Unfortunately there is no index to the publications of the Massachusetts Historical Society comparable to the wonderful one for the Pennsylvania Magazine. The Collections of the MHS are indexed in every tenth volume. There are indexes for the Proceedings after the twentieth, fortieth, and sixtieth volumes. I think probably all of those can be obtained separately from the Massachusetts Historical Society, 1154 Boylston Street, Boston. Another useful tool is the index to the first twenty-five volumes of the Publications of the Colonial Society of Massachusetts, which is obtainable from the editor at 87 Chestnut Street, Boston.

Clifford K. Shipton

Dear Dr. Robinson:

We are sorry that we have not been able to complete your order to make negative photostats of the thirteen pamphlets asked for in your letter of January 18, 1955. Our photographer has many other duties in the Library besides that of photostating and it is sometimes necessary to do a large order such as this in small stages. We have about half of the group finished, however, and if you would like to have us send them to you now we will be glad to do so. If we do not hear from you we will wait until the entire order is completed and send them at one time. We hope that the long delay has not inconvenienced you and we will try to finish the other pamphlets just as soon as we possibly can. Our annual meeting of the Associates which took place last week is always an interruption in our normal routine. Please let us know if it would be of help to receive half of the group now.

We are pleased to offer the following:

Van Doren, Carl. Secret History of the American Revolution. 8vo, cloth. Illus. New York, 1941.
$4.50

We cannot supply Burnett's Letters of Members know should a set come in.

There seem to be no separate index volumes of the Connecticut Historical Society Collections. Most of the volumes have their own index. This now runs to about 23 or 24 volumes.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

This is to acknowledge with sincere appreciation your gift to us of $100.00. Your inquiries have always been of such an interesting nature that we have invariably enjoyed them. I only wish that we had been more successful in many instances. I trust that you will take up some other task of a similar nature, so that we can look forward to further knotty points from your pen. Few, very few, people who use our facilities have the graciousness that you have shown us.

We will tackle the result of your work in a few days. I am not using the editorial "we" as I am most anxious to have our Mr. Wainwright also read your work. He is an expert on the prerevolutionary period and I feel sure you will profit by his comments. As you no doubt know, he is now Editor of our magazine so he has the added advantage of seeing many articles, even those that do not appear in print.

In closing let me again express our sincere thanks.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Thank you so much for your very nice letter of November the 1st. Let me hasten to suggest that you do not "shake-down" your manuscript until you have shown it to William Savage. He might not agree with my suggestions, and he might have others of considerable importance. It might save you re-working the material twice. The manuscript goes forward to you via first-class mail.

As to a possible article for our magazine the chapter, Sermons to Troops 1775-1776, might make an interesting subject. I mention this particular chapter, because I sat in on a discussion as to how much the Clergy influenced the people in general, versus the theory that sermons reflected the mood of the people. A difficult problem on which you may have some interesting information.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Quite frankly I think it would be wiser to await further analysis of your manuscript, before considering its publication. No doubt Mr. Savage will have suggestions of his own. It is obviously impossible for a Publications Committee to come to any conclusion regarding the printing, until the manuscript is in its final form.

As to making a sketch, the only person that we have is only good at lettering, and is not competent on a map. I think the result would be far better if your daughter came here and examined the maps that we have. In this way we can get a far better picture of what can and cannot be done.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

I have taken a long time on your book because I found it very difficult indeed to come to a decision. Usually after the first reading of a manuscript, I have a relatively definite opinion one way or the other. In your case I went through your manuscript three times before coming to a conclusion, which is that I doubt that it can be published in its present form. Furthermore, I do not believe that the individual chapters would make adequate articles without much rearranging and rewriting. Our Nicholas Wainwright has the same feelings in the matter.

My opinion, however, is no doubt warped, because I am definitely allergic to numerous quotes. I believe it breaks the continuity and makes it difficult to pick up the thread of the story. In your desire to be nonsectarian you have not brought yourself into the picture enough. I think you should tell the story in your own words. In some of the cases where a quote is absolutely essential, work it more smoothly into your own text. At other times, the quote can be handled by giving it the form of a footnote.

I cannot say that I am particularly happy regarding my opinion and my criticism, for the reason that I know little about religious history. I urge you, therefore, not to take this letter too seriously. I recommend that you send your manuscript to a more competent person. I suggest for example, William L. Savage of Scribners (one of the Philadelphia Savage clan). You would not only benefit from the thoughts of a competent critic but also from a man familiar with religious history, as well as the commercial publishing field.

I will await instructions from you as to how and where to send the manuscript.

Cordially,

R. N. Williams, 2nd

Dear Stew:

Your manuscript on "The Political Thought of the Colonial Clergy, May 1774 to July 1776" presents a real problem to a general publisher such as ourselves. We are much impressed with the amount of thorough research and study which you have given to this subject and there is no question in our mind that it makes a valuable contribution to the subject. Some of the letters are unusually interesting.

It seemed to me, however, that it is the sort of thing that some historical society or special press would have to undertake, for I doubt that we as general publishers could find a sufficient market for it because of its rather special nature. Unfortunately, we would have to sell several thousand copies before we could make both ends meet and with our chief outlets the bookstores, I just don't see how we would be able to do it. I was interested myself in looking at it, for some of the names which appear so constantly were merely names to me before.

We are sending the manuscript on to you, but I want to express our thanks for the opportunity of seeing it. If there is any help in any way that we can give you, please don't hesitate to call on us.

If you are ever in this vicinity around lunchtime, don't hesitate to drop in, for I would greatly enjoy seeing you again.

Sincerely yours,

Bill

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Thank you very much for sending us the chapter Preaching to Soldiers, 1775-1776. At least momentarily I will step out of the picture, and turn it over to our Editorial Board. I will do so without comment so that we may get an entirely fresh approach, at least to this part of your manuscript. As we are particularly busy at the present moment, it may be a couple of weeks before you hear from me.

Cordially,

R.N.Williams 2

Dear Stew,

Your manuscript, "The Exscinded Paragraph," with its accompanying letter has been received and perused. It has much in the way of interesting material on an extremely interesting question. Altho I do not have the final say in the matter of the choice of material for the Journal, I should like to see it appear there, and will recommend that action. The material for the Journal is assigned for a number of issues coming up, because of the 250th Anniversary Celebration of the Presbytery. But I should think that one of the later issues of 1956 would be available for such an article.

You are to be complimented on your diligent searching and unearthing of material that is of such great value for an important period of history for both Church and Nation. The chapter headings for your book indicate rather interesting coverage of the two years under consideration. I surely hope that you find a publisher. If Scribner's do not take it, I should think some university press, such as Princeton, would do it.

I shall write to you later to let you know what the committee decides in connection with your chapter.

With sincerest regards, I am

Cordially yours,

Guy S. Klett

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Your article Preaching to Soldiers, 1775 and 1776 has come back from the Editorial Committee. As I told you I did not join in their deliberations, as I did not want any of my thoughts to influence their decision. Their reaction was as follows:

They believe the topic is a very good one, but it is their opinion that you have been somewhat unfortunate in the way you handled it. They spoke at some length on the many quotes, which they did not like. They felt that it was too much of a listing of quotations which, in itself, does not make an article. Essentially it was a listing of facts and material found, but these were not developed into a thesis. They, therefore, came to the conclusion that we could not accept the article for our magazine.

I regret very much that I have to be the messenger of this unfavorable news.

Very sincerely yours,
